13 Cuenta by Jossy Tromp

13 short stories in Papiamentu by Aruban author. The writer uses oral storytelling structures to tell his stories. Traditional folk elements are used in a new surprising way. He is critical of traditional data – which often erroneously are characterised as culture. And brings new creative viewpoints and promotes the rooted folklore tradition into innovative cultural elements.

Sin wak patras Olga Buckley

Collection of enticing poems in the Papiamentu language.

The poet expresses through her poems passion, burning desire, she outlines beauty, cries in situations of disappointments, portrays love.

The poems express the inner life of the poet with its ups and downs.
And that cuts through the heart and the soul of the reader.

De buitenvrouw Joost Zwagerman

An engaging novel about the happily married Dutch teacher Theo Altena, who has a clandestine affair with his Surinamese colleague, Iris Pompier.
Through this relationship he becomes obsessed with everyday racism, which degenerates into a kind of positive xenophobia.

TIP: Summer Delight

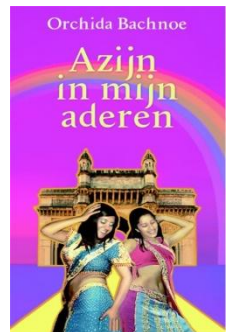

Hot Brazilian Wax by Eric de Brabander

The struggle between Western medicine and alternative healing gets to a boiling point in this book. Intertwined with the power struggle between the genders.
At the end you have a Greek tragedy in the tropics.
