WELCOME TO THE BOOKISH PLAZA eZINE

June the Keti Koti Month, when we celebrate the breaking of the chains of slavery. We made a selection of interesting books for your reading pleasure on this theme. Fine reads like Porto Marie, Hoe duur was de suiker? & Quaco are a few. Our Events Calendar is once more full with book launches, lectures and many more activities. Bookish Plaza will participate on some of them. The book Balans on the Aruban literature is one of our New Arrivals among others.

The New Books published are amazing, especially Kas di Shon on the planters houses then and now. In a special appendix we made a selection of good reads for this Summer. All of them available @ Bookish Plaza. Many books were published lately. A compilation is made for your Summer read. The next ezine will be out in September, so you have a lot of titles to read.

Good reads all Summer round!

NEW ARRIVALS!

Bewoond Scharloo
Charles Gomes Casseres

Personal recollections of the writer of the neighbourhood Scharloo in Curacao, where he grew up. The district makes at that time its heyday. The book tells of the (Jewish) families who lived there, how the area looked like, the remarkable events and the atmosphere of that time. Also about the great personalities, who were living there, such as Commander Shon Cai and Shon Mongui.

Non-fiction € 10,00

Balans; Arubaans Letterkundig Leven
Wim Rutgers

Over the past 40 years Wim Rutgers wrote numerous articles in various media as the local newspapers, in magazines and in books on the Aruban literature. This study is in some ways a sequel to Henry Habibe's Aruba in literair perspectief; tussen traditie en vernieuwing: 1905 – 1975 that describes the historical part of the Aruban literature.

Non-Fiction € 35,00

What is Bookish Plaza!
